3. Pastor Dustin explained that being 'devoted' means having an intense commitment to and a refusal to give up on someone or something.
 - a. What core principles and practices did the early church steadfastly uphold, and why were these essential for their community and faith?
 - b. How does devotion to Christ influence commitment to others?
 - c. In what ways can this devotion transform individuals while fostering resilience and growth within the church community, especially during times of strife?
4. How does the awe and unity described in Acts 2:43-44 relate to Jesus' command in John 13:35 to love one another, and what principles guide our efforts to build a unified church community?
5. How do the radical generosity and gratitude in Acts 2:45-46 reflect Jesus' teaching in Matthew 6:19-21 about storing treasures in heaven, and in what ways can these values guide our lives today?

START LIVING | Get your group applying God's Word to daily life.

6. Reflecting on your interactions with others, what changes can you make to better embody Christ's love, and demonstrate greater empathy, patience, and forgiveness in your daily life?
